About Flexora

The Flexora GmbH is a spin-off from TU Dresden developing a sensor skin to collect real-time data over large areas. This data then is used to digitize physical assets and optimize efficiency of processes.

Main focus is the heating sector which accounts for more than 50% of total energy consumption worldwide. With our patented technology we can increase energy-efficiency in this sector by more than 15%. This can potentially save 5,4 mio. tons of CO_2 as well as 4,3 billion € per year in Germany alone.

Apart from continuous product development, we are in the process of securing a financing round. This will help us to internationalize quickly, standardize internal processes and increase our production.

What we offer

- Job with impact
- Negotiate your own payment
- Learn first hand how to build a company
- Flexible work hours and long-term perspectives
- Motivated team and great working atmosphere
- Access to startup & business network

Which of our positions fits to you?

Marketing: Providing content to investors, customers and partners on different plattforms. Also organizing team events can be part of your tasks. You should be outgoing and creative. Social media addicts welcome.

Finance: Support our CEO directly during the closing of the investment round. Scout investors, prepare and update financial information. Good Excel-Skills and structured way of working needed.

Operative Support: Du bist ein Multitalent und kannst dich selbstsändig und zügig in neue Dinge einarbeiten. Mehr Flexibilität aber auch mehr Verantwortung kennzeichnen diese Position. Du solltest sicher im Umgang mit Menschen sein und keine Angst vorm Telefonieren und Mails beantworten haben. Sehr gute Deutschkenntnisse sind wichtig für diese Position. Powerpoint skills sind ein Plus.
